Bridgeport Physician Elected American College of Radiology Council Vice Speaker

Reston, Va. — The American College of Radiology (ACR) Council elected Alan D. Kaye, M.D., FACR, of Bridgeport, Conn., vice speaker of the ACR Council, during the ACR's 84th Annual Meeting and Chapter Leadership Conference (AMCLC) in Washington, D.C., May 19 – 23, 2007. Dr. Kaye will also serve on the Board of Chancellors of the ACR and on its Executive Committee and Finance Committee.

Dr. Kaye is a fellow of the American College of Radiology and a member of the ACR Council Steering Committee. He is also a member of the ACR Government Relations Commission and former chair of the ACR State Government Relations Committee. He is chair of the department of radiology at Bridgeport Hospital and assistant clinical professor of radiology at Yale New Haven Hospital, and the Physician CEO of Advanced Radiology Consultants, 21-member practice with seven outpatient imaging centers throughout southern Connecticut.

"Dr. Kaye has served with distinction in many leadership roles within the ACR. He is a leader in the field of radiology and in medicine as a whole. The ACR as an organization looks forward to his continued outstanding leadership as vice speaker of the ACR Council," said ACR Executive Director Harvey L. Neiman, M.D., FACR.

The ACR is a national nonprofit association serving more than 32,000 members, including radiologists, radiation oncologists, interventional radiologists, nuclear medicine physicians, and medical physicists, with programs focusing on the practice of radiology and the delivery of comprehensive health care services.
